

DOGWOOF PICTURES

Issue 1

Welcome to the first edition of the Dogwoof Pictures newsletter. Future editions will include more detailed analysis on world cinema, with some in depth research, as well as bringing the latest news and developments in world cinema. For now, consider this a gentle hello.

WHO IS DOGWOOF?

As this is the first of our newsletters, we thought you might like to know a little more about us. Dogwoof Pictures (DWP) is a foreign and UK films distribution business which acquires all UK media rights for exploitation through theatrical release, video rental, DVD & video sell thru and television sales. To find out more why not visit our web site.

DWP RELEASE SANS FRONTIÈRES

DWP will be organising "DWP Release Sans Frontières", a contest that aims at helping talented film makers/producers to release their films. DWP covers all the distribution costs (prints, marketing, P&A) of the winning film.

Contestants

- If you have the passion, imagination and inspiration to make a film, we will help you to get it screened.
- If you want to see quality films based on strong plots and characters then we will be working with a network of independent cinemas to ensure you get that chance.

NEW RELEASES

This months featured film is:

The Station Agent

<http://www.thestationagent.com/>

Thriller (2003) 88mins US

Director: Thomas McCarthy

Starring: Peter Dinklage, Patricia Clarkson, Paul Benjamin

A man named Fin settles into a remote outpost — a rundown train depot in the wilds of New Jersey — that is so restful it seems perfect for him. The movie's writer and director, Tom

McCarthy, has such an appreciation for quiet that it occupies the same space as a character in this film, a delicate, thoughtful and often hilarious take on loneliness.
